" PUBLIC OFFICE" GE18 THE CONTRACTS

A REPUBLICAN MANUFACTURER TELLS HOW THE AWARDS ARE MADE NOW.

A. D. Atwood, secretary and treasurer of the Phoe nix Manufacturing Company, of Taunton, Mass., says that his experience with the Democratic party hardly confirm the "Public office is a public trust" shibboleth of that party. The Phoenix Manufacturing Company has been supplying crueibles to Government assay offices and mints for many years. Some time ago the award for the supply of crucibles at New York was made to a man named Justinian Cain, for " Dixon crucibles." With this award Mr. Atwood has no fault find, as Cain's bid was $7.20 a dozen less than his for the same grade of crueble. In the case of the Carson City mint awards, however, the difference in the bids was precisely the same, says Mr. Atwood, but this time the lowest bid was offered by the Phoenix Manufacturing Company. Nevertheless the contract was again awarded to Cain, subject to the approval of James P. Kimball, director of the mint at Washington

In answer to a letter from Mr. Atwood, asking for an explanation, Mr. Kimball replied that the approval tain on Monday, while on her way to Newark, was of the contract would be delayed until Mr. Atwood's letter had been forwarded to the superintendent of the nint at Carson City, and a reply received from him. At the same time the director said he understood that the rates offered by the Phoenix Manufacturing Company did not include delivery, as required in the call for bids. He also called attention to the fact that " within reasonable limits of difference between prices offered, melters are allowed to chose their own cructbles, according to their own preference, as determined with his wife, and started to return home at 11 p. m. by differences in practice, of value and of draught." In the same letter he says further: "It also occurs to me to suggest that as the Dixon Company is in the hands of a receiver the rates offered may be some what below competitive rates on the part of other manufacturers." In another letter, dated May 24, In another letter, dated May 24, 1888, Mr. Kimball states that it seems to him "that personal preferences of technical officers at the several institutions result in a very fair distribution between makers of critchles,"

In regard to the rates offered by the Phoenix Manufacturing Company not including delivery. Mr. Atwood says that his company gave a bond of $2,000, as required, that the crucibles should be of the kind and price stipulated, and that they should be delivered at quired, that the crucibles should be delivered at price stipulated, and that they should be delivered at Carson City. He does not think that a difference in the price of $7.20 a dozen for the same class of goods is slight enough to admit of "personal preferences of technical officers." Nevertheless, although Mr. Kimball, in a letter dated July 26, 1888, states that the Phoenix crucible is one of three brands used successfully in the mint service, the award made by the Carson City superintendent was approved by him.

At San Francisco last year, the bid of the Phoenix Manufacturing Company was considerably lower than the one accepted. The superintendent of the mint in that city said in explanation that their bond had arrived twenty-four hours after the award had been made. This year Mr. Atwood again failed to receive the contract, although his bid was even lower than on the previous year, and no explanation was offered.

"I have no need to speak for the quality of our goods," said Mr. Atwood. "Unfortunately, though, I am a Republican, and the 'personal preferences' of which Mr. Kimball so solemnly speaks threaten to close up our business, as we are beginning to find it next to Impossible to get Government contracts at any rates."

A LITTLE STREET EPISODE.

Rather than risk "one good deed dying tongueless" a Tribune reporter mentions an incident which of the he saw in Beaver-st., near the Cotton Exchange, yesterday. A hatless, barefooted boy, weighing not over fifty-five or sixty pounds, was tying together some heavy strips of refuse wood. After he had fastened them as securely as his tiny hands would permit, he manfully undertook to shoulder them; but was dismayed to find the law of gravity and his feeble muscles prevented success. He was looking at his the "Burning of London" at Manhattan Beach reported fallen bundle in despair, though without a tear, when a coal cartman stopped his horse and asked: "Where do you want to take that?"

WERE THEY SHOT BY THE ITALIAN

FANCIED INSULT WHICH WAS RESENTED IN A SERIOUS MANNER.

Three men were seriously wounded in a affray on Monday night in a low resort at Third-ave. and Sixty-fifth-st., Bay Ridge, L. I. Felix Carrao keeps and says, the place, and it is resorted to by many foreigners. One of the women living there is Annie Norwalk, a Norwegian, John Jacobson, of No. 69 President-st., Bachman Jacobson, his brother, of No. 190 Hamilton-Bachman Jacobson, his brother, of No. 190 Hamilton-ave., and Frederick Christian went in the place late Mon & Co.

Bark Avenmore (Br). Smith, Perth Amboy-J F Whitney day night, and the last-named accidentally brushed against the Norwalk woman. An Italian rushed up and began quarreling and drew a revolver, which he fired at Christian and his friends. John Jacobson was hit in the shoulder and dangerously hurt, and his brother was wounded in the breast, and Ditman Antonica, an Italian, was struck in the back.

Bachman Jacobson said that the man who did the shooting was Laurence Guil, of No. 224 Forty-eighthst, who was arrested yesterday morning. He denied all knowledge of the shooting. John Jacobson was taken to St. Peter's Hospital. Fears of a fatal result are entertained. Guil is a well-to-do builder. He was arraigned before Justice Church yesterday and held to answer.

THE MAYOR ON THE COMMISSIONER OF JURORS. Mayor Hewitt yesterday sent a letter to Corporation of Accounts upon the transactions of the Commission covered nothing indeating want of integrity, and rechanges in the system, the Mayor calls attention to the extraordinary facts that out of a total number of jurors on the list for 1887-8, 24,019, only 8,963 actually performed duty; that there were excused and discharged by the court 9,701 persons, and that 2,017 persons neither served nor were excused, discharged or fined. Of the number fined, 3,333, it appears that 3,018 were relieved by the action of the Commissioner, so that only 315 or less than ten per cent of the total number were actually subjected to any fines. The fines imposed amounted to $29,850, but only twenty five per ons paid fines amounting to but $1,475. The amount appropriated by the Board of Estimate for the support of the office is $20,700; the amount collected and paid over to the Controller is $2,489 18 for the years 1885 to 1888, an average of less than $700 per annum. These results prove that a reform is needed in the bureau and probably in the legislation which directs its operations. The Mayor submits the report and recommendations of the Commission to Mr. Beekman, and asis him to give the subject his "early attention, with a view of making such recommendations to the Legislature as will seem best calculated to give greater efficiency to the judical system and work with fairness to the citizens who are required to perform jury duty."

DELURY'S Autumn Opening

For Gentlemen and Ladies' Fine Tailoring. Contains one of the largest and choicest collections of High-Class Novelties imported into this country, selected from stocks of all the leading European manufacturers.

Intending purchasers are invited to examine our large line of fine woollens, together with the new designs published by the upper trade society of English tailors, showing the garments, materials, &c., that will find the most favour during the autumn and winter seasons. As is well known this house avoids the two outrageous extremes practised among the tailoring trade in this country-riz., deceptive cheapness and fancy high prices. Mr. Delury "says" his principle is to produce first-class, reliable made garments, commanding both character and style,
